

Backend developer for a dynamic and growing startup

Are you an experienced Backend developer and are you looking for a place to exert your influence by joining a growing team of developers engaged in developing backend solutions for data driven dynamic monitoring and management solutions for livestock production? Then we may have just the right job for you at IQinAbox.

At IQinAbox we develop an analytics and insights engine, which is a unique, cloud-based, scalable solution based on advanced statistical methods, insight into the biology of growing pigs and deep knowledge of the wants and needs of the pig industry. IQinAbox is a Danish company, that cooperates closely with universities, agricultural organizations, and agribusinesses to develop scientifically based insights through data driven modelling and monitoring of the industrialized livestock production.

To further strengthen our in-house capabilities in developing this backend, we need an experienced Backend developer to join our team of in-house software developers. For the right candidate, we offer an exciting and versatile job. By joining our startup, you will be given the opportunity to influence and set the technical direction of our cloud-based backend services.

Primary tasks

- Hands-on development, optimization, and maintenance of IQinAbox's backend services
- Active participation in development tasks, including contact with external subcontractors and other partners.
- Carry out unit-testing and code reviews, as well as preparing documentation

Your professional qualifications

- You have practical experience with REST API development, including managing security and automating test processes
- You have at least 2-3 years of experience as a Backend-developer, including SQL (or similar) and ideally familiar with cloud environments (e.g. MS Azure).
- You are skilled in C# (primarily .NET Core/Framework)
- You are familiar with Azure DevOps, CI/CD for Azure and SCRUM or other agile principles

Your personal profile

- You can work independently and make things happen
- You have the desire and courage to create extraordinary results
- You do not let yourself be stressed by short deadlines and many concurrent tasks
- You have a high level of drive
- You have the ability and desire to adapt as the company expands

We offer

- An exciting and demanding position in a fast-growing international company
- Responsibilities and tasks that never remain static and will challenge you every day
- Opportunity to influence the development with your efforts and your commitment
- Competent and committed colleagues
- An informal and professional management style, with focus on responsibility, initiative and delivering results

Send your application (in English) to tnm@iqinabox.com or contact CEO Thomas Nejsum Madsen (+45 40 81 38 14) for further information.

We are based in an innovative office community in Måløv close to public transport (Kildedal S-train station) and with on-site Clever Charging Stations for electric cars.

Read more about us at www.iqinabox.com